GUILTY ELECTION INSPECTORS TO BE IMPRISONED.

SCATHING WORDS FROM MR. SHEPARD AN-NOUNCING THAT NEW EVIDENCE AGAINST MCKANE AND HIS MINIONS HAD

BEEN DISCOVERED. Sentences ranging from twenty-nine days in jall to six months in the penitentiary were inflicted yesterday upon the sixteen Gravesend election in spectors who pleaded guilty on Monday before Judge Brown, in Brooklyn, to the crime of conspir-Ing to cast Blend ballots in Gravesend in the last election. The cases of the twenty-two men indicted by the December Grand Jury in the Extraordinary Term of the Court of Over and Terminer summoned by Governor Flower have now been disposed of Deputy Attorney-Generals Tracy and Shepard and Assistant District-Attorneys Wernberg and Lamb have seen the end crown their work in this matter. There are still a few indictments found by the Jury will be summoned in May to consider other cases growing out of the same crimes, based upon information revealed in the statements of the intwo men indicted, Mckane is serving a term of six years in State Prison; Jamieson is in the peni-tentiary for eighteen months; Newton is serving a term of nine months in the same institution. Sutherland has fled to avoid a term of a year; six-teen of the eighteen election inspectors are in the penitentiary or the jail, and two had the indictments against them dismissed. The indictments against Patrick H. Tiglic were dismissed on Monday, and yesterday those against Frank T. Clark were also dismissed, as he only served as an inspector on Election Day, and there was no fraudulent voting in his district.

THE COURTROOM CROWDED

The courtroom was crowded in every part when Judge Brown called the cases of the sixteen men Judge Brown called the cases of the sactors have who were to be sentenced. They were in charge of Sheriff Buttling and his deputies, and had passed the night in Raymond Street Jail.

Deputy Attorney-General Shepard in moving for sentence, made a long address, carefully reviewing the situation and presenting the conclusions arrived at in regard to each of the defendants. He took | Fifth-ave. occasion to excuse them in part and to lay more blame upon McKane, Newton and Sutherland than had before been done. Mr. Snepard added in part:

"In behalf of the people it becomes my most pain ful duty to move for sentence upon the inspectors of election at Gravesend who yesterday entered pleas of guilty. In consenting to accept such pleas upon the indictment for conspiracy, which is a misd-meanor only, instead of upon the more serious indictments for felony, the counsel for the people have been influenced by their desire, while enforcing the law by adequate punishment of the grave and ex-tensive crime against an honest election committed at Gravesend, not to disregard the personal situation quarters at No. 19 West of these prisoners and the circumstances of con straint under which they joined in the crime are clear that in respect of criminal intent there is a very great distance between the case of Me-

Kane and the cases of these inspectors, even though in strict law the crimes may be the same. Indeed, the information which we have within the past three days received from the inspectors has an any height ened our impression of McKane's wick-dness in dein which he availed houself of the neces manner in which he availed himself of the necessities of poor men, or of men the continuance of whose business depended upon his favor, would, had it been as fully and precisely known at the time of his sentence as it is now, have justified, in our. that in those districts, and more especially in the in 180. By frandulent votes I mean votes which represented no voter at all. In the presence and with the consent of the inspectors of those districts, and during Election Day in 180, the ballot-boxes were repeatedly opened and ballets thrust intothem by the hands of Sutherland, now a convict and a fugitive. Names were thereupon entered uses the poll lists in blanks, left for the purpose, of persons who never voted, even if such persons existed at all. This was done through the more immediate procurement of Sutherland and of Newton, now also a convict, and also, as we believe and are informed by these inspectors, of others not this

Ryan, six months in the penitentiary and $500 fine; in the contempt proceedings before Judge Barnard, will have to be served, as they withdrew their appeals when their pleas of guilty were accepted, but Judge Brown said that the two terms of imprisonment would run together. The prisoners sentenced to the penitentiary will be taken thither today to begin their terms with Newton, who is working there as a convict. No new indictment can be found against him, as this was one of the conditions on which he pleaded guilty.
